

INVITATION

DISTRICT HEATING ROADSHOW TO CHINA

HOHHOT AND CHANGCHUN, 23-26 NOV

SweHeat & Cooling, the Embassy of Sweden in Beijing / CENTEC and Business Sweden will arrange a District Heating Roadshow to Hohhot, Inner Mongolia and Changchun, Jilin province during 23-26 Nov. The Roadshow will give an excellent opportunity for Swedish companies to present their solutions to key stakeholders in these two cities.

China is the largest district heating (DH) market in the world after the Russian Federation. Between 2003 and 2010, the total coverage area of DH systems expanded from 1.9 billion m² to 4.4 billion m². The demand for heating continues to increase rapidly in parallel with the economic growth and urbanization. Furthermore, advanced integrated solutions of heat recovery, combined cooling, heating and power generation (CCHP) are called for to increase the efficiency of existing and future heat and power plants. In addition, fuel source for heat production is usually coal which generates large amount of carbon emissions with high energy losses.

Sweden as a country has a strong brand and is well known for its capabilities and experience in the field, where Swedish companies are known to provide a variety of technically strong solutions. The key objective of this Roadshow is to provide a forum for Swedish companies to present their products and services to the Chinese authorities and industry.

The Roadshow is jointly organized by SweHeat & Cooling, the Embassy of Sweden in Beijing / CENTEC and Business Sweden and it is the fourth time that the organisers arrange a similar activity in China. This time the Roadshow will cover two cities – Hohhot and Changchun:

Hohhot is the capital of the Inner Mongolian Autonomous Region with a population of 3 million. The district heating area covers around 101 million m² in 2015, among which heating area for the residential compounds account for 75%. From 2008 to 2014, Hohhot removed and integrated 256 units of dispersed boilers, transformed 123 coal-fuelled boilers into gas fuelled, as a result, 24 million m² heating areas have been united and 5 million m² secondary pipelines have been updated. The challenges that Hohhot faced are: the lack of heat resources leads to insufficient heating supply. With ever expanding of the city, the construction of heat resources is relatively lagging behind. Besides, technology upgrade for the pipeline is also urgently needed.

Changchun is the capital city of Jilin province with a population of 7,5 million. The district heating area covered 189 million m² in 2014. The challenges faced are: heating equipment is old and perished, technology of the pipeline is in a need of upgrading with most pipelines have been using for more than 20 years, some are even 35 years, the design of the heating system need to be improved with big discrepancy of heating supply.

The Swedish delegation will be led by an official from the Embassy of Sweden in Beijing. This will enable proper attention from Chinese City Officials and Local Official decision makers, District Heating companies and Power Utilities, and create a unique opportunity to meet the right people for future business. The Roadshow will give the Swedish companies an opportunity to present their solutions to senior stakeholders from the cities' administration, heating associations, companies and Universities. It will also give network opportunities to discuss specific business with the Chinese stakeholders.
